

Build Your Professional Network

- Looking for face-to-face networking and learning opportunities?
- Struggling with questions that a more experienced colleague could help answer?
- Want opportunities to stretch your leadership skills and abilities?
- IMA communities have what you need when you need it.

Within IMA, we strive to help our members create a web of linked relationships that keep them engaged with practitioners, academicians, students and suppliers from around the world. From social networking to tapping the IMA community for problem-solving, the relationships you build within IMA will reap a variety of benefits for you.

IMA offers geographical communities through its network of more than 200 IMA Chapters worldwide. For 24/7 access to professionals in the field, IMA supports over a dozen virtual communities arranged by interest area or industry sector.

IMA provides the connections you need to keep your finger on the pulse of the profession.

IMA Career Center

Finding a new position in today's job market is all about networking. IMA offers access to a network of colleagues in the same field, which is valuable since often "who" you know is as important as "what" you know. IMA members can connect with each other and find opportunities in a number of ways including at Conferences, Local Chapter and Council meetings, virtually on the LinkUp IMA online community and through the IMA Career Center.

Job Wall

The LinkUp IMA Job Wall offers a place for members worldwide to hang a virtual flyer for a job opening or job wanted in accounting and finance. There are no additional fees to search for or connect with or post jobs. The only requirement is membership.

View opportunities now! Members can checkout both LinkUp IMA Community Job Wall listings and IMA Career Center listings.

Career Center
